Victor Mai Announced as New Vice President at Goodwill
Mai will lead Goodwill's manufacturing operations division

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. – Goodwill of Central and Southern Indiana announces a new vice president of manufacturing operations, Victor Mai. In this role, Mai is responsible for ensuring Goodwill Commercial Services, a division of Goodwill of Central & Southern Indiana, provides high-quality products and services to all of its customers and workforce support for 220 manufacturing employees.

Mai has been with Goodwill for almost a year, previously serving as Goodwill Commercial Services' senior director of manufacturing operations.

“Goodwill provides goal-oriented, supportive services to help employees and program participants to be successful,” said Mai. “We have decades of experience supporting individuals with disabilities as well as those who are justice-involved. I look forward to building upon that foundation with the new opportunities in manufacturing as we continue to create life-changing employment opportunities for members of our community.”

Mai earned an MBA from City University of Seattle, possesses a bachelor of arts in History from Arizona State University and previously served in the Army National Guard. He brings 13 years of experience in product support, manufacturing, change management and leadership experience in the medical device and aerospace industry.

Goodwill's Commercial Services division offers contract manufacturing, assembly and packaging services and solutions to customers both locally and throughout the nation. These services provide jobs, training and resources for individuals who face barriers to employment. Goodwill Commercial Services also operates Goodwill Building and Grounds Services, which offers full-service, commercial landscape maintenance and janitorial services.
